FASHIONABLE colors for stock speculators nowadays—black and blue.

Dry rot and a stroke of paralysis seems to have seized the Democratic party.

CYCLOPS seem to catch on to sweet things occasionally. One caught on to a near-house in the Pelican State the other day.

It is authoritatively stated that Grover Cleveland has not begun his letter accepting the Democratic nomination for President.

It is evident that Congress can finish all the appropriation bills by the 3d of July or the 5th at the farthest. That being done, there is no reason why it should not adjourn.

BEN BUTLER voted fifty-six times for Jeff Davis in the National Democratic Convention of 1860 in Charleston, S. C. That ought to give him much power and influence at Chicago at the coming Democratic Convention.

LINCOLN, Garfield and Arthur were school teachers in early life and they all became Presidents. Blaine also was a school teacher and he will complete the quartet of pedagogical Presidents on the 4th of March next.

The Democrats of Indiana have nominated a renegade Republican for Governor. Now, if they only nominate another renegade for President—Ben Butler—at Chicago, they'll carry Indiana easy, and without the aid of Barnum's mules.

ONE of the products of Delaware is on a boom. The peach trees have been entirely untouched by the frost, and the yield will be unusually large. The same can be said of the other products of Delaware—the Bayard boom, for instance.

ONLY about 1,500 people attended a meeting in Boston last evening, the object of which was to start a Butler boom. But very few prominent Democrats were present. In short, the launching of the boom was not a great success. Perhaps the ways had not been sufficiently greased.

THE correspondent of one of the leading Democratic papers of the Southwest was heard to remark yesterday that if anybody but Tilden was nominated by the Democrats they would be beaten. He will find that even Tilden can't save them this time.

TILLEN probably be a lady clerk at the White House. The Senate has put in the Legislative bill an appropriation of $1,200 to pay a female clerk for signing the President's name to land warrants. Thus even if President Arthur persists in being a bachelor lovely woman will have a foothold in the Executive Mansion.

SOME Democrats are howling that if Blaine is elected we will have a row with some foreign power. Mr. Blaine's foreign policy will aim to rehabilitate our commerce on the high seas, and if any foreign power kicks against that effort we suppose that Mr. Blaine would kick back hard, and would be, and ought to be, sustained by every true American in every section of the Union.

A REY of $25 was made up at the Capitol yesterday that Tilden would be nominated at Chicago in spite of his declaration. It would be just like the Democracy to nominate a man who says he has not the physical ability to discharge the duties of the office. The old man needs a worry. He'll not be called upon to discharge 'em. A Downcast Pennsylvania Yankee named Blaine will take care of the discharging business for four years from the 4th of March next.

"A TARIFF for revenue, limited to the necessities of the Government, economically administered, with incidental protection, but without creating or fostering monopolies, is all that the Democratic party of this country at large contends for," says Kelly in his paper. Now, will John or kind enough to tell us what a tariff for revenue, limited to the necessities, is? Is it the same as incidental protection? If so, how and why? We have got incidental protection now, and that is all the Democrats are contending for. They had better save their time and trouble.

DOMESTICALLY, the country has been boomed up to the very top notch, and we must look around for new directions in which to expand and grow. We have increased our agricultural products to such an extent that even our vast home market cannot dispose of the immense surplus. We must, therefore, seek new markets in which to dispose of our breadstuffs and beef, pork, &c. To secure foreign markets we must have an aggressive, short and trenchant foreign policy; not necessarily a bellicose policy, but one that will demand and command a proper protection of American citizens and American commerce. If we engage in commerce with foreign nations we must put ourselves in a position to protect and enforce the rights of our citizens. This would not necessarily involve us in hostilities with anybody, for if nobody interferes with our people there will be no reason for hostilities with anybody. But if any foreign power oppresses or wrongs our citizens it is the duty of our Government to demand and compel proper reparation.

This, we understand, is the policy that will be carried out by Mr. Blaine. How anyone can object to it, and still claim to be an American citizen, we cannot conceive. It is the proud boast of England that wherever her flag floats her citizens find protection for themselves and their property. And that should be the boast of this great republic. No citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, or matter how humble or obscure he may be, should be wronged or oppressed in any quarter of the globe, without his wrongs being promptly redressed on the demand of his Government. Then the sails of our commerce would written every sea; new markets would be opened up everywhere for our surplus products, and every farmer and manufacturer in our broad land would find a new impetus given to our prosperity. This is what Mr. Blaine aims at; this is the full extent of his far-famed aggressive policy. Who says it is not right, and just and expedient?

The Amendment is a Good One.

WASHINGTON, June 25, To the Editor of The Evening Cric:

I noticed in your paper of recent date, that Mr. Muldrow, representative from Mississippi, had been instructed by the committee to report favorably the bill prohibiting the intermarriage of white and colored. I hope you will permit me to suggest the following amendment through the columns of your paper:

"And be it further enacted that hereafter any white man found living or cohabiting with any colored girl or woman, or found in any place of ill-repute kept by colored persons or in any manner associating with any colored girl or woman, shall be imprisoned not less than five years nor more than ten, and shall be liable to a fine of not more than $10,000 nor less than $5,000, or both, in the discretion of the court. This act to take effect from and after its passage." J. D. G.

Now in the Parents' Chance.

The firm of B. Robinson & Co. have recently taken temporary quarters at No. 931 Pennsylvania Avenue (John T. Mitchell's old stand), where they will remain until their new building, under a flagstone pavement, is ready for occupancy. It is the intention of the firm to open with an entirely new stock of goods, and hence every article now on hand will have to be sold. Prices will be a secondary consideration, and as much as twenty-five per cent. on the dollar will be made. Boys' suits, that formerly sold for $1.50 and thereabouts are now being disposed of at 10c. Other goods of the same character are also made, and it is impossible to learn to what extent B. Robinson & Co. have cut their prices. The stock at the store, 931 Pennsylvania Avenue, near the City Postoffice, was charged with the same offense, and forfeited $100.

Shoes! Shoes! Shoes!

Owing to the recent falling of prices of shoes, and shoes, in being disposed of regardless of cost, the stock in the store, 931 Pennsylvania Avenue, near the City Postoffice, was charged with the same offense, and forfeited $100.

A Car-Window Ventilating Combination.

While French and English railway managers and inventors are experimenting with many devices to supply pure atmosphere, to be inhaled by passengers in crowded railway coaches, American inventors have not been idle. About two years ago, a Mr. F. J. Felt, one of the most practical and successful inventors in this country, conceived the idea of a railway passenger coach, which should have all the comforts of a first-class drawing-room, and which should be so constructed as to draw in pure atmosphere from the windows and expel the air from the interior. It is simple and complete in its construction, and can be used on any railway. It is made to open in opposite directions. Each one is guarded above and below by projecting shutters, which can be raised or lowered, drawing out the car, when the train is in motion, the hot and impure air is rising in the motion of the coach. The lower windows are constructed on the same principle, each half of the window opening outward, as well as having the present upward and downward movement. The only part that can enter the car is supplied with cold and dustless air, which enters when the doors are opened and closed. It overcomes one of the greatest inconveniences in railway traveling. It is a necessity that has always been needed for the comfort of railway travel. In this invention will be accomplished what is claimed for it by the inventor, all first-class roads will not be slow to adopt it.

The inventor says he will allow any responsible railway company to apply to its coaches and give it the fullest test as to its work and effectiveness. He says it stands unchallenged by any invention of the kind either in this country or Europe.

Star of Hope Lodge of Good Templars.

There was a regular meeting of this lodge last evening at Higgins' Hall. The programme, under the foot of the order, consisted of a piano solo by Miss Carrie Brookfield; reading, J. H. Hedges; song, James Loveless; remarks, Lewis O'Neil; installation, William Evans and Heyman; remarks, P. O. Cheeks; of Anchor Lodge; recitation, Mrs. S. G. Woodward; remarks, M. J. Child; song, George Forney; and piano solo, George Johnson. The meeting was somewhat enlivened by a fraternal visit from D. J. Hallway Lodge, No. 18.

A Lost Investigation.

What's the investigation ordered by the House several weeks ago into the Indian cattle case and the Cherokee $300,000 fund? Hon. S. W. Peck, of Arkansas, has been out of the subcommittee. Subcommittees have been issued for three witnesses from the Indian Territory, but why are the witnesses who are here examined? Valuable time is being wasted. It is true, as reported, that the subcommittee has at last closed its doors.

Have Removed Temporarily to

931 Pennsylvania Avenue

John T. Mitchell's Old Stand,

DURING THEIR IMPROVEMENTS TO STORE

In order that we may open with an entire new stock of goods we have cut prices so tremendously (the reduction in many instances amounting to 25 cents on the dollar) that we have no hesitancy in saying that the same character and quality of

YOUTHS', BOYS' & CHILDREN'S

CLOTHING

Was never before offered in Washington at prices so exceedingly low. No proper idea of the magnitude of our stock or the great slaughter we have made in prices, can be formed without visiting our store. We can only give you a general idea, and to start with we tell you that you never knew of such a bargain (as a lot of 250 Cassimere Suits, formerly sold at $6.50 to $8.50; we have marked them at $5.00, which is but very little more than the fabric cost.

Children's Kilt Suits in Line and Drill and no Check, half price.

200 Young Men's Suits at $10 and $12, reduced from $15 and $18.

Boys' All-Wool Suit at $7, $8 and $10, former price $10 to $13.

One Lot of about 75 dozen Men's Gauze Undershirts, long sleeves, 25 cents.

One Lot of Boys' Standing Collars, 11, 12 and 13, 25c. doz.

One Lot of Boys' Linen Turndown Collars, sizes 10½, 11, 11½, 13½, 25c. a dozen.

After you have bought, if you do not regard your purchase as a decided bargain bring back the goods and get your money. There is no room for imposition in such a proposition. Is there?
